NIXON GROUP (from page one)

from predicting a first ballot win. Nixon was to arrive for the convention tonight.

An Associated Press check-showed he had pushed his total of publicly committed delegate votes to 572, only 95 short of the prize-winning total, over the weekend. This was a gain of 28 over Saturday's count.

Rockefeller pulled up to 232, a gain of 24. Reagan stood at 161, favorite sons accounted for 231
and there remained 137 uncommitted.

It was on the favorite son delegates and the uncommitted that Nixon's men were concentrating as the convention approached its first formal major event tonight, the keynote speech of Gov. Daniel J. Evans of Washington. Evans said he will tell the convention that the nation can't base law and order on inequity and injustice.

In the midst of the heavy campaigning, the convention's platform committee, headed by Illinois Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, came up with a 13,000 word document that seemed likely to get accepted without a ripple.

The committee adopted a Vietnam plank that urged "a progressive de-Americanization of the war" without "camouflage a g d surrender"—language obviously tailored to please both Nixon and Rockefeller.

The two leading candidates both praised the draft, while Reagan, whose views are more hawkish than the plank, had no immediate comment.

While the delegates were getting set for Wednesday's convention balloting, the evidence of the Nixon drive cropped up in many places.

Dirksen, who heads the 58-vote Illinois delegation, helped turn on the burners for the Nixon forces with a public declaration that the former vice president "is so close to striking distance of the nomination that offhand I don't believe he could be stopped."

The Nixon pressure was such that Reagan felt it necessary to tell supporters of the former vice president in his California delegation that they would be "very foolish" if they tried to defect from his favorite son candidacy on the first ballot.

Reagan came away from a conference with Ohio Gov.
James A. Rhodes, a key man in the jockeying of the major candidates' for position, without any assurances about how long the Ohioan would or could hold the majority of his 58-vote delegation to his favorite son stance.

The late historian Walter Prescott Webb called barbed wire the Industrial Revolution's "greatest contribution to the economic conquest of the Great Plains."

10 Killed on Arkansas Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ten traffic fatalities, including five in one wreck, were reported over the weekend in Arkansas.

The Associated Press count of weekend fatalities began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

A head-on collision Friday night between two cars about 1 1/2 miles north of Bearden on U.S. 79 killed Jimmy D. Kyzer, 28, of Fordyce; his passenger,
Jack Kyzer, 40, of Fordyce; Bennie Lee Goodwin, 18, of Bearden, driver of the other car, and William E. Kennedy, 17, of Eagle Mills and Roy Lee Rideout, 18, of Bearden, both passengers in Goodwin's car.

A car and truck collided Sunday on Interstate 40 about 12 miles west of West Memphis, killing Richard Ellis Garrett, 38, of Nesbit, Miss. State Police said Garrett's car crossed the median and ran into the path of a truck driven by Jack West of Springfield. Garrett's passenger, Morris W. Oswalt, 56, of Lake Cormorant, Miss., was hospitalized in satisfactory condition.

Allen Duayne Dunn, 18, of De ueen was killed Saturday when his pickup truck apparently blew a tire and the vehicle struck a bridge on U.S.
70 about seven miles west of De Queen. Dunn was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dunn of De Queen.

A one-car accident Saturday night on Arkansas 12 east of Clifty in Madison County killed
Anita Keck, 15, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Floyd Keck of Boston (Madison County). State Police said she was a passenger in a car driven by her brother, Bobby Keck, 17, who apparently lost control of the vehicle and it overturned. Keck and two other passengers were hospitalized.

Hayden L. W. Tool, 22, of Searcy was killed early Saturday on a curve on Arkansas 16 about four miles west of Searcy. A passenger, Johnny Wyatt, about 20, was treated at a Little Rock hospital.

Renee Monagle, 43, of Buffalo, N.Y., was killed Saturday in a head-on collision on Interstate 55 near West Memphis. State
Police said Richard Campbell, 43, of Memphis was driving east in a west-bound lane and struck the car in which Mrs. Monagle was riding. Her husband, Leland J. Monagle, 53, was hospitalized in critical condition.

Four other persons, including Campbell and three persons in the Monagle car, were injured.

LBJ TRIES (from page one)

steel-pricing practices.
Rand called today's session
while on a trip in the South.

How much direct pressure—if any—is being brought on U.S.
Steel to hold the line could not be learned.

But the situation closely parallels 1965 when Bethlehem led the way with a $5-a-ton increase on certain major items.

The company rolled back to remain competitive when Big Steel, reportedly under tremendous White House pressure, posted increases of $2.50 on the same items.

Johnson also ordered government agencies to avoid purchases from price-busters in that confrontation, as he has done this time.

The orders were applied to defense purchases last week and extended to all government
Steel buying over the weekend.

The White House campaign so far has been aimed mainly at Bethlehem and Republic which posted across-the-board increases of slightly under 5 per cent only hours after the Industry last Wednesday reached agreement with the United Steelworkers on a new three-year contract. The pact is expected to cost 6 per cent a year.

They were the first general increases in the industry since 1962 when President John F.
Kennedy won a bitter duel with steel titans.

Since then selective increases have become common and White House aides indicate they could live with them now, although not as high as the 4-percent-plus most companies have posted.

Perhaps significantly, it was U.S. Steel that precipitated the Kennedy-Steel clash which Kennedy won at the expense of widespread animosity from businessmen.

Several steel executives were convicted in a price-rigging case in 1965 that was related to the Kennedy-Steel confrontation.
Congress looked into steel pricing in 1963, also as a result of the blowup, but its investigation proved inconclusive after steel executives refused to divulge cost and production figures.

Although the Senate was prepared to bring contempt charges against the executives it backed off when the administration, seeking to repair the damage to its image among businessmen, was cool to the idea.

In calling for the FTC probe, Hart, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on antitrust and monopoly, said a recent study showed steel accounted for about $250 of the cost of a $3,000 automobile.

"A 5 per cent hike on top of this is not a minor item," he said.

Evanson to Remain Dry quarters of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is going to stay dry.

The City Council has killed a proposal that the sale of liquor be permitted.

Murphy Firm Increases Stock Value

The Directors of G.C. Murphy Company in July proposed an increase in authorized Common Stock, $1 par value, from the present 8,000,000 shares to 12,000,000 shares and the creation and authorization of 3,000,000 shares of Preferred
Stock.

There are no immediate plans for issuance of the additional shares, the Director said.

A special meeting of shareholders of record August 27, 1968, has been called for September 23, 1968, to vote on the proposal. Approval of shareholders is required. Approval by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of an amendment of the Company's Articles also will be necessary.

A proxy statement giving details of the proposals will be mailed to shareholders on or about August 20, 1968.

Presently there are 4,259,000 shares of Common Stock, $1 par value, issued and listed on the New York Stock Exchange, 147-000 of which are held as Treasury Stock, leaving 4,112,000 shares outstanding. At present the Company has no Preferred
Stock.

In making the proposal, the Directors said they believed the additional stock will provide management with greater flexibility for a planned accelerated expansion program.

The Company presently operates 502 stores in 23 States and the District of Columbia, 4 new stores were already opened in 1968, with 17 more to open before year end, 35 additional new stores are under construction or contract for opening in 1969 or later.

Shareholders also will be asked to approve at the September 23, 1968, meeting a Qualified Stock Option Plan, adopted by the Board of Directors.

Pope Not to Revise Birth Control Edict

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican's daily publication declared today that Pope Paul's encyclical on birth control would not be revised.

A front-page editorial in L'Osservatore Romano said the pontiff would not give in to pre-sures to change his absolute ban on artificial contraception even if a majority in the Roman Catholic Church were to ask for it.

It was the sixth day in a row that the Vatican daily had defended the Pope's decision with a major editorial. Pope Paul himself pleaded in favor of his encyclical in the two public appearances he has made since the document was released one week ago.

This steady defense of the encyclical seemed a sure sign that there would be no relenting on birth control in any new document on marriage and family life even though Vatican sources have hinted such a document might be in prospect.

Speaker at Meeting of Rotary Club

J. W. Rowe, Director of the Red River Vocational-Technical School, spoke to the Hope Rotary Club on August 9 at its weekly luncheon meeting in the Town and Country. He defined "poor people" as those who don't know how to use the facilities they have.
In that respect, the Vo-Tech School is doing a splendid job in fighting the war on poverty.

On August 11 the second graduation will be held at the school.
There will be 160-180 in the class.
However, during the past year
many more have been in classes, and numerous people have taken part in short courses and in night classes of adult education. The speaker told several success stories of former students, illustrating the good over-all program at the school.

Future plans for the school were outlined by the speaker, who expressed appreciation to everyone in Hope for the splendid co-operation shown in every phase of the school's operation.

Introduced by Dick Moore, program chairman, the speaker invited everyone to the school's graduation exercises on August 11. In the absence of the club president, the vice-president, Benny Coleman, presided. He welcomed visiting Rotarian G. L.
Benson of Lodi, O., and another guest, Bill Willhite of Jay, Okla.

Nixon Witness for Couple He Employs

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon appeared as a witness today for a couple he employs. They are seeking to become naturalized citizens. He jokingly predicted it would mean two more votes for him in November.

Nixon said that while it de-

more votes for him in November.

Nixon said that while it delayed his departure for the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach, Fla., by about eight hours he felt "it is a great privilege" to appear in behalf of the couple.

Seeking citizenship were Manuel and Josefa Sanchez, who fled Cuba five years ago and went to work for Nixon.

Sanchez, 39, is chauffeur and valet for the GOP presidential hopeful. H is wife, 40, does some in the Dollarway and Alzheimer school desegregation cases have carried through on their promise to appeal recent rulings by Federal Judge J. Smith Henley.

Henley had ruled that both school boards could continue to operate under the freedom of school year.

Notices of appeal were forwarded Thursday to the U.S.
8th Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis by the federal District Court Clerk's office at Little Rock.

Group to File Friendly Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Municipal League has asked the state Supreme Court for permission to file a "friend of the court" brief in the city of Fort Smith's appeal of an order that it recognize a union for its nonuniformed employees.

The league said the high court's decision on the appeal could have "profound effect not

STILL GOING UP. Hospital costs continue to rise. One reason is this: In 1949 hospitals had an average of 1 1/2 employees for each patient. Today it takes 2 1/2 employees.
As the cost of running a hospital goes up, prices have to go up, too. You pay more—but more people get well faster —and that's what hospitals are all about.

HAPPY THOUGHT. Blue Cross hospital benefits PAY IN FULL the cost of most hospital services (except blood, plasma and the daily room allowance—which is selected by the member). So when hospital costs go up, your Blue Cross-Blue Shield membership becomes more valuable. Keep it. Keep it up. Keep it always!

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — With three years of state elections and this year's presidential primaries behind as warm-up sessions, the three major television networks have plunged into their quadrennial ordeal: The presidential conventions, campaigns and election.

Close to 2,000 television reporters and technicians, tons of equipment—NBC alone weighed in at 65 tons—including hundreds of cameras and videotape machines were ready for the opening session in Miami Beach this morning. All three networks have been plugging their coverage plans lavishly for weeks between programs and trying to build interest with special programs.

Since the days when there were few viewers and fewer sets, television has been honing its skills. Few will forget the technical expertise with which, four years ago, the networks showed viewers in live and lively detail the trip of President Johnson from the White House to the Atlantic City convention hall.

Convention-covering, in spite of all the milling around and oratory which occurs more or less on schedule in a predetermined location, is particularly difficult for television. Political conventions remain essentially a reporter's rather than a camera's story since most of the headlines are made behind closed doors.

In addition, television has the problem of filling the long hours of routine business and speech-making during the first two days of the session. The vitally interesting part, the nominations and balloting for president are scheduled for Wednesday. While both CBS and NBC plan their usual gavel-to-gavel live coverage, the television industry is focused on the decision of ABC to handle the story primarily by means of a nightly, 90-minute wrap-up of the day's highlights.

On Sunday, all three networks devoted their usual daytime interview programs to the Republican story. CBS' "Face the Nation" had Gov. Ronald Reagan of California answering questions. NBC, which had invited front-running candidate Richard M. Nixon to split a special hour-long session of "Meet the Press," gave the whole time spot to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York when the former vice president declined. Later in the day there were special convention programs on both NBC and CBS.

Networks are always loath to talk finances, but informed estimates peg the cost to the three networks for Republican convention coverage alone at between $8 million and $10 million. That includes the massive Miami concentration of men and equipment as well as the cost of pre-empting regular programs.

The intense coverage invariably results in complaints by viewers deprived of entertainment programs—particularly during the long and sometimes droning speeches and ceremonies. Thus, the ABC plan to compress the day's highlights and some analysis into an edited summary will be watched closely. So, too, will the ratings of each evening roundup.

If what ABC calls its "unconventional" convention coverage strikes the public's fancy, it could start a trend.

Touring to Yesterday

By JIM CROSSLEY

For those who stalk and cherish them, all covered bridges this month lead to Rutland, Vt. The Second New England Covered Bridge Festival is being held there, Aug. 11-18.

At this event the fabled National Society for the Preservation of Covered Bridges, Inc., will surface and its officers, including the editor of its sprightly quarterly journal, Covered Bridge Topics, Leo Litwin, will be present to greet all the CB fans and talk shop. Included in the attractions are tours of many of the 105 historic bridges in the state, slide shows, photo contests, a church supper and a band concert.

The climax comes with an inspection of the construction work being done for a new bridge to be erected at Woodstock Village, Vt. Akin to archeology, the covered-bridge hobby is basically a dig. In this case, however, odd and fascinating facts of the past are unearthed instead of relics.

It is important, for example, that trusswork for the Woodstock Village bridge is the first authentic Town Lattice design in New England since 1889.

If the New England shindig is missed, bridges—or just people who savor Americana—needn't count the year lost. There's another covered-bridge festival, the 12th annual for Parke County, Ind., Oct. 11 to 20.

Each year the town of Rockville, Ind., near Turkey Run State Park, embarks robustly on a great week of sightseeing, country eating and nostalgic fun. Citizens dress in old-time costumes; handicrafts and antiques are on display in the town square. The rarest

FAR-OUT HEADGEAR is worn by model Vicky Hodges at a London fashion show, where it caused quite a stir among viewers.

Irvine Quads Released From Hospital

WHEATFIELD, Ind. (AP) — The Irvine quadruplet babies, A, B, C and D—have ended their six weeks of intensive hospital care. But the problems are just starting for their parents.

The main job Mr. and Mrs. Allan J. Irvine face is feeding the boys who arrived Sunday from Home Hospital in Lafayette where they were born June 21.

Each baby is on a three-hour feeding schedule—32 total feedings each day that probably will keep the parents feeding the boys on an around-the-clock basis.

The boys were named Allan, Byron, Corey and Dale. When they were born, the hospital labeled them A, B, C and D.

Mrs. Irvine, 26, admits she of rare back-country delicacies, corn cob jelly, is available there. Farms color up the countryside for the entertainment of those who take bus tours of the bridges with a unique scarecrow contest. And the Ritz Theater (admission 50 cents) puts on programs of silent movies every night.

Why Rockville, Ind.? Parke County's 38 covered bridges are the largest number of any county in the nation. In bridge statistics, Indiana ranks third among all the states with 128 bridges, behind Ohio's 202 and Pennsylvania's 247.

In the nation, there are about 1,500 still standing. The preservation effort isn't wasted. They're dwindling. Arsonists, floods, overloaded trucks and porcupines who love to chew the timbers for the tracked-on road salt are the chief depredators.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

THE MULTI-LEVELS of Plan HA560M are tied together well by the exterior design. The lower foyer has direct access to a room that could be an office. Family room, laundry, bath and garage entrance are to the rear on the same level. The entire area could be used by a doctor or other professional man. Outdoor living is provided with a terrace; three doors open on it. The kitchen is a double L which provides a maximum of counter tops and cabinets. There are 1,579 square feet on the living and bedroom levels and 506 square feet on the family room level. Architect is Rudolph Matern, 89 E. Jericho Turnpike, Mineola, N.Y. 11501.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! in this newspaper.

JUST A "LITTLE" MISTAKE

Dear Helen Bottel: In a recent column you suggested that a woman "prove her metal." The word is "METTLE," Mrs. "Bottle." — THE MIDNIGHT SPELLER

Dear Speller: Touché! No "rebuttle," my fine "suttle" friend. The proofreader in charge of my unique spelling must have been out to lunch—and I hope he is again when THIS copy comes through!—H.

Dear Helen: Our neighbor next door is hooked on his new sit-down lawn mower. He's out there tooting around on it five times a week, always when I would rather sleep.

Now we all know—except him—that lawns don't grow as fast as whiskers and once over lightly on Saturday mid-morning is enough. What does it take to get this across?—NO MOW JOE

Dear Joe: Probably not more than a month. Once the newness wears off his toy, you neighbor will join the rest of you reluctant weekend gardeners.—H.

Dear Helen: A boy our daughter met in college wrote and asked her to a party to be given by him, and to stay at his home over the weekend. He says the parents will chaperone, and she assures me he is trustworthy. Both young people are under 19 and living at home.

I insisted that the mother of the boy be called to see if it was indeed satisfactory for the visit, thus having a chance to say hello to the folks and discreetly get a little information about the party. They live about 300 miles away from us and we have never met.

My wife and daughter jeered at me and finally compromised by calling the boy himself. He said it was all right!

Am I "out of step?"—PUZZLED

Dear Puzz: You're marching in my league! Seems to me the parents of the boy are out of step. They should have sent a personal invitation to your daughter, perhaps followed up by a telephone call to her mother. How else will you know she is welcome, or—excuse my suspicious nature—even that there ARE parents?—H.

P.S. For the sophisticates who argue, "At 18, a girl can do as she pleases—and usually does," I say, "Not until she leaves home and becomes self-supporting." —H.

Dear Helen: I disagree with you about letting 18-year-olds vote. Until they are 15 or 16, their mothers wait on them hand and foot, even tell them when to bathe. That gives them about two years to grow up and learn to vote. If they read a newspaper, they concentrate on comics and advice columns. They never read an editorial on politics! So naturally, when the vote comes at 18, they will be ghost voters for their parents who tell them who to choose.

These teens would never think of telling their church deacon, a high school graduate, how to run his church. That's too much for them! But put them in a college dormitory and in a few months they are bright enough to tell a college president how to run a university! Right into the ground!—MRS. W.J.

Dear Mrs. J.: I'll lay odds a teen-vs.-adult political bee would send the old folks to the showers. Wanna bet?—H.

Mrs. Johnson by 317 Votes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Virginia Johnson of Conway appears to have won the No. 2 spot in the Aug. 13 Democratic runoff by a 317-vote margin over Ted Boswell of Bryant.

The Associated Press' tally of the certified reports from the 75 county clerks or Democratic election officials shows Mrs. Johnson with 85,997 votes to 85,680 for Boswell.

The party's state committee will probably issue its final totals on the certified votes late today.

Mrs. Johnson will oppose Marlon Crank, who led the ticket in last Tuesday's election, in the runoff.

Nicklaus Winner of Western

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — An hour after Jack Nicklaus handily locked up the Western Open Golf Championship Sunday he still was hanging around the press room. He was laughing, patting scribes on the back and talking about the technicalities of his game.

The frustration of failing to win a tournament in 9½ months was over and the Golden Bear, like a kid with new toys, made the most of it.

He took his second consecutive Western title and the $26,000 payoff with ridiculous ease. He was leading by four strokes entering the last round and won by three with a closing 71 and a 273 total, 11 under Olympia Fields' murdered par.

Only one player who was anywhere near the pace made a determined charge at Nicklaus. Miller Barber, 37, winner of the 1968 Nelson Classic, finished with birdies on three of the last five holes for a 66. It gave him second-place money of $15,600 with 276.

Much credit for adding some dash to the 65th Western Open must go to 22-year-old Bobby Stanton of Australia, winner of a mere $5,131 this year. Bobby was in contention from the start, failed to break down where others did, and closed with a 71.

He took a bogey 6 on the last hole when he strayed into the bleachers. Stanton totaled 277 and picked off his biggest purse Boros, the oldest PGA king at age 48, displayed unreal steadiness in a final 70 for 278 and fourth-place money of $6,500.

Bobby Smith, young pro from Sacramento, Calif., had a dazzling 66 finale to share fifth place with George Archer and Homero Blancas. They each pocketed $4,980.

Travelers Victorious Over El Paso

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas broke up a scoreless duel with three runs in the fourth inning and walked to a 5-1 victory over El Paso Sunday behind the strong pitching of Harry Parker, who lost his bid for a second straight shutout in the ninth inning.

Parker had to have relief help from Jim Cosman with one out in the ninth as Arkansas, the Eastern Division leader, maintained its first place hold. El Paso leads the Western Division.

A double by Mike Christino, an error and a single by John Sipin brought home the three runs in the fourth. The Travelers wrapped the game up with two runs in the sixth on a walk and singles by Boots Day, LeRon Lee and Billy Wolff.

In other Texas League games, Shreveport stayed one game behind Arkansas with its sixth straight victory, defeating Amarillo 5-2. Dallas-Fort Worth whipped San Antonio 2-1 in 12 innings and Memphis defeated Albuquerque 10-4.

Cubs Spoil Tribute to Musial

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The new statue of Stan Musial outside St. Louis' Busch Stadium stands 10 feet tall... or about shoulder high to Leo Durocher and the Chicago Cubs.

Durocher's sky-high Cubs spoiled a Musial Appreciation day at St. Louis Sunday by bringing down the Cardinals 6-5 in a 13-inning struggle.

The Cubs have won six in a row, including three against the runaway National League leaders, and have shot from ninth place, on July 12, to second with a run of 18 victories in their last 23 games.

Musial, the NL's seven-time batting king before he moved into the Cardinals' front office, donned his old uniform and joined former 1941 teammates during the pre-game ceremonies. The bronze statue, created by Carl Mose of Washington, D.C., was unveiled after the game at one of the main entrances to the stadium.

In between, a capacity crowd of 47,445 saw the Cubs battle St. Louis ace Bob Gibson to a standoff for 12 innings before beating reliever Joe Hoerner on a run-scoring pinch single by Lee Eila in the 13th.

Elsewhere, Los Angeles rookie Mike Kekich beat New York 2-0 with a one-hitter after the Mets won the doubleheader opener 8-4; Cincinnati downed Atlanta 6-4 in 12 innings; San Francisco topped Pittsburgh 2-0 and Philadelphia nipped Houston 3-2.

In the American League, Detroit took Minnesota 2-1; Baltimore trimmed New York 5-3; Cleveland drubbed Oakland 7-4 after bowing to the Athletics 5-0; Boston defeated California 5-1 in the completion of an earlier suspended game, then lost to the Angels 12-6 and Chicago whipped Washington 7-2.

Gibson, gunning for his 13th straight triumph, settled for a no-decision after being tagged for five runs—two more than he'd allowed in any previous start since April 20.

The Cards' 15-game winner pitched out of a couple of early bases-loaded jams, was tagged for a seventh inning homer by Billy Williams that tied the game, 3-3 and lost a 4-3 lead in the ninth when Al Spangler hit his first pitch for a homer—the first of the year for the Chicago outfielder.

Don Kessinger sent the Cubs ahead 5-4 with a run-scoring single in the top of the 12th but the Cards quickly retied it when Johnny Edwards, batting for Gibson, doubled and Lou Brock stroked an RBI single.

The Cubs finally pushed over the winning run in the 13th on Randy Hundley's single, a sacrifice and a two-out single to center by Eila, who went to the plate with one hit in 14 at-bats. It was the Cub utility man's first RBI of the season.

Kekich, who had lost five straight after an April 16th victory over Philadelphia, limited the Mets to two walks until the seventh, when Ron Swoboda lined a two-out single to right. The 23-year-old southpaw struck out 11 and got the only run he needed when Willie Davis singled in the third inning, stole second and scored on Ron Fairly's double.

Bud Harrelson poked four hits, Cleon Jones and Tommie Agee homered and Al Eisei's tie-breaking single keyed a two-run seventh inning rally as the Mets won the opener behind a 14-hit attack.

Johnny Bench snapped a 4-4 tie with a run-scoring single in the 12th and tallied an insurance run on Tony Perez' triple, leading the Reds past Atlanta into third place. The Braves had tied the game in the ninth on a two-run single by Joe Torre.

Bob Bolin pitched a five-hitter, struck out 10 and drove in the Giants' first run with a fifth inning single. Dave Marshall's run-scoring singled in the eighth sealed Bolin's fifth victory in eight decisions and saddled Pittsburgh's Jim Bunning with a 4-12 season mark.

Pitcher Rick Wise drilled his second double of the game with two out in the ninth and scored on Tony Taylor's single, carrying the Phils past Houston. Wise, who also doubled and scored in the fifth, checked the Astros on seven hits for his seventh victory against eight setbacks.

Buffalo and Lions Play Tonight

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The American Football League, over its first year jitters, has shook up the National League thus far in this season's miniature Super Bowls, and now it is Buffalo's chance to increase the vibrations.

The Bills, who contributed an 0-2 record in last year's 3-12 AFL Interleague exhibition debut, and the Detroit Lions of the NFL crack heads tonight in Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium.

AFL clubs already have won two games, and lost one, in the first week of this year's exhibitions after a split during the weekend.

San Diego of the AFL scored twice in the last two minutes for a 30-18 victory over San Francisco of the NFL, while AFL defending champion Oakland lost to Baltimore and Johnny Unitas 14-12 Saturday night. Houston owns the AFL's other interleague victory, beating Washington 9-3 last Thursday.

In other games Saturday, the Chicago Bears edged the Dallas Cowboys 30-24 in the all-NFL Hall of Fame game at Canton, Ohio, in the afternoon, and Kansas City spoiled expansion Cincinnati's debut 38-14 in an AFL game at Cincinnati at night.

The Bills, who dropped a 19-17 decision to Detroit last year, will start a veteran lineup, with only starting right end Paul Costa, offensive tackle Dick Hudson and split end Bobby Crockett sitting out. Jack Kemp will be at quarterback with Elbert Dubenion, Wray Carlton and Keith Lincoln completing the backfield.

However, the Lions, who were shocked by Denver before beating two AFL clubs last season, will be minus hospitalized starting quarterback Bill Munson. Veteran Karl Sweetan will replace him.

Detroit will have rookie kicker Jerry DePoyster from the College All-Star game, but quarterback Greg Landry and flanker Earl McCullough, who also starred for the All-Stars in the 34-17 loss to Green Bay Friday night, are not expected to see much action.

Quarterback John Hadl and back Brad Hubbard supplied the big action at San Diego with 145 remaining against the 49ers. Trailing 18-17, Hadl hit Hubbard on a 24-yard screen pass and a touchdown, and Chuck Allen added a 29-yard interception score with 51 seconds left.

San Diego had led 17-3 at the half, but a field goal and Ken Willard's two scoring plunges put the 49ers ahead.

Unitas put Baltimore ahead 14-3 at the half with a 47-yard pass to Willie Richardson to set up one score and a 53-yard drive for another before 51,154 spectators in Oakland. The Raiders never caught up, although Unitas sat out the last half.

Five Records Fall in AAU Swim Meet

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer
LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Only five world records and 10 meet marks fell in the 18th AAU Outdoor Swimming Championships, but don't worry about the United States in the Olympics this fall in Mexico City.

"This was primarily a meet for the young kids to build up their confidence for the Olympic Trials," said Yale's Don Schollander, a four-time gold medalist at the 1964 Olympics.

"The world records will come at the Olympic Trials," he predicted Sunday. "Most of the top swimmers already had qualified for the trials."

Schollander, a graybeard of 22, was himself dethroned in both the 100 and 200-meter freestyle events he has ruled for five years. He was beaten by Mark Spitz, his 18-year-old Santa Clara Club teammate.

Spitz, a triple winner and leading men's scorer in the meet, was himself upset in the 200 butterfly Saturday by 23-year-old Mark Roberg, an Olympic silver medalist who competed at Michigan.

"I needed a good meet going into the trials," Roberg said. UCLA's Mike Burton missed his bid for a world 1,500-meter freestyle record Sunday night. So did 15-year-old Debbie Meyer in the women's but she had a consolation prize—a world 800-meter record of 9:17.8 en route to her meet mark of 17:38.5.

Burton barely held off 15-year-old John Kinsella of Hinsdale, Ill., 16:29.4 against 16:29.6. Both broke Burton's meet and American citizen's mark of 16:34.1 but missed the pending world mark of 16:28.1 set July 7 by Mexico's Guillermo Echevarria, who was third in 16:40.2.

Ralph Hutton of Canada, a product of Foothill Club at Los Altos, Calif., was fourth in 16:49.3 in the swiftest mass 1500 finish in swimming history.

Miss Meyer's 15-year-old teammate, Victoria King, recorded 17:55.6, making her only the second woman in history under 18 minutes.

Kinsella was 27.6 seconds under his best; Miss King, 18.4 under hers.

Bowl last January. Chicago rookie Willie Derion returned a punt 62 yards in the final quarter for the Bears' victory, but it wasn't decided until the Bears stopped Dallas on a fourth down situation 18 yards from the goal line in the last minute.

Another Chicago rookie, Cecil Turner, and Lance Rentzel of Dallas each scored two touchdowns.

Yarbrough Is Winner of Dixie 500

By LAURA FOREMAN
ATLANTA (AP) — Lee Roy Yarbrough used his brain more than his foot Sunday, taking a fairly easy victory and $17,885 in the ninth annual Dixie 500 at Atlanta International Raceway. He mapped it out, and it worked.

McLain, 22-3, figures to get 13 or 14 more starts and needs eight victories to become the first 30-game winner since Dizzy Dean did it in 1934. His pace has kept Detroit on top of the American League and could pay off in the club's first pennant in 23 years.

It looked like the Tigers would end that long dry spell last year until McLain's foot fell asleep and he dislocated some toes with two weeks left in the season. The injury also dislocated the Tiger pennant dream and Boston walked off with the flag.

Now McLain, his foot awake and his arm alive, has the Tigers out in front again. Elsewhere Sunday, Chicago battered Washington 7-2, Baltimore dumped New York 5-3, Boston beat California 5-1 in the completion of a suspended game and then the Angels walloped the Red Sox 12-6, and Oakland split with Cleveland, winning the first game 5-0 and dropping the nightcap 7-4.

In the National League, Cincinnati topped Atlanta 6-4 in 12 innings, Chicago edged St. Louis 6-5 in 13, Philadelphia nipped Houston 3-2, San Francisco blanked Pittsburgh 2-0 and New York split a doubleheader with Los Angeles, winning 8-4 and then losing 2-0.

McLain scattered five hits and had the Twins shut out until the eighth when an error by Al Kaline, playing first base, set up an unearned run.

Kaline's sacrifice fly had driven in Dick McAuliffe, who tripped, in the top half of the eighth against loser Jim Kaat.

A triple by Mickey Stanley and Bill Freehan's single drove in the Tigers' first run in the fourth.

The victory kept Detroit six games up on Baltimore. The Orioles won a wild one at New York with the winning run scoring on a disputed play at home plate.

Mark Belanger, who had opened the seventh inning with a single and worked his way to third on an error and a messed up pickoff play, scored the run on Dave Johnson's bounce to short.

The Yankees argued on the call and while they did, Frank Robinson tried to slide in with another run. But the umpires had called time and the Orioles argued on that decision. Manager Ralph Houk of New York and Earl Weaver of Baltimore were both jawing with the umpires at the same time.

Tommy Davis, who drove in four runs Saturday, knocked three more home Sunday helping the White Sox beat Washington, 6-4. Davis tagged his sixth home run and a two-run double as Jack Fisher won his sixth game. Paul Casanova homered for the Senators.

Ken Harrelson crashed a grand slam home run in the ninth inning, giving the Red Sox the victory over California in

McLain Has Chance for 30 Victories

Denny McLain, whose toes let the Detroit Tigers down a year ago, is making up for it with his arm this summer.

The ace of the Tiger staff won his 22nd game Sunday, beating Minnesota 2-1 and staying on schedule for his date with the record book.

High School Stars Begin Workouts

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas' premier high school athletes arrived here Saturday to begin preparing for the annual high school football and basketball All-Star games.

The basketball game will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in Barton Coliseum and the football game will follow at 8 p.m. in War Memorial Stadium.

The football squads worked for two hours in humid weather Saturday afternoon, but made it through with no casualties.

"We just barely made it," said West Coach Jarrell Williams. "We about suffocated. It was extremely hot, hotter than anytime last year."

Despite the heat, the athletes appeared to be in good condition as the West hopes to snap a string of six straight victories by the East, which won last year 28-12.

The contest could develop into a high-scoring affair as both sides are blessed with several standout ball-carriers.

The West has Mike Saint and Randy Hickerson, both of Texarkana, and Steve Brown of Springdale.

Saint gained almost 1,000 yards rushing last year in eight games and Hickerson, a quarterback, picked up more than 1,900 yards in total offense. Brown was the top scorer in Class AAA with 22 touchdowns.

The East boasts such offensive powers as Steve Hocker, smith of Little Rock Hall, Larry Brown of Marianna, Ronnie Hook of Newport and Danny Duke of North Little Rock.

"We look for them (the East) to throw as much as last year, or even more," Williams said. "We're going to be prepared to play defense."

In addition to Hickerson, Williams has John Collins of Rogers and Bubba Wrentz of Camden Fairview at quarterback.

The East, coached by C. W. Kepple of Hall High, has Walter Nelson of Hall, Gus Ruder of Brinkley and Johnny Eldridge of Augusta at quarterback.

The West basketball team boasts the tallest player on the All-Star squads. He is John Belcher, 6-foot-8 and 235, who played high school ball at Hot Springs Langston.

The West also has Almer Lee, Fort Smith Northside's all-star player and the most valuable player in Class AAA last season.

The East team can counter with Mike Peterson of Little Rock Horace Mann and John Benson of Manila, both 6-foot-6. The East also has Jerry Schmidt of Little Rock Central and Jim Franks of Cotter, both 6-foot-4.

the completion of a game suspended June 13.

Then the Angels roared back in the nightcap with Rick Reichardt's three-run homer and five hits by Vic Davallillo, including a tie-breaking double in the eighth inning leading the attack.

Tommy Harper delivered a two-run pinch double in a five-run fourth inning that carried Cleveland past Oakland in the second game of a doubleheader.

The A's took the opener on a four-run seventh inning rally keyed by doubles by Danny Carter and John Donaldson. Lew Krause and Chuck Dobson combined to pitch the five-hitter.

The victory kept Detroit six games up on Baltimore. The Orioles won a wild one at New York with the winning run scoring on a disputed play at home plate.

Mark Belanger, who had opened the seventh inning with a single and worked his way to third on an error and a messed up pickoff play, scored the run on Dave Johnson's bounce to short.

The Yankees argued on the call and while they did, Frank Robinson tried to slide in with another run. But the umpires had called time and the Orioles argued on that decision. Manager Ralph Houk of New York and Earl Weaver of Baltimore were both jawing with the umpires at the same time.

Tommy Davis, who drove in four runs Saturday, knocked three more home Sunday helping the White Sox beat Washington, 6-4. Davis tagged his sixth home run and a two-run double as Jack Fisher won his sixth game. Paul Casanova homered for the Senators.

Ken Harrelson crashed a grand slam home run in the ninth inning, giving the Red Sox the victory over California in

Truce Prevails Christmas Ideas Are Exchanged by HD Women Between Czech Groups

By HANNS NEUERBOURG
Associated Press Writer
PRAGUE (AP) — A truce prevailed in the Soviet bloc today with Czechoslovakia's liberal Communist leaders and the Soviet press each assuring their people all was well in the wake of the Bratislava conference.

Observers in Prague foresaw more strains between the Czechoslovak leadership and such defenders of the Communist status quo, as Walter Ulbricht of East Germany and Wladyslaw Gomułka of Poland. But the future looked brighter for party chief Alexander Dubcek and his associates than it had in many weeks.

Dubcek gave fresh assurances to dispell any lingering suspicions that his group had been forced off their liberal course by the Russians and their allies at the meetings in Slovakia last week.

"We are determined to continue on the road we have taken," Dubcek said in a broadcast Sunday night. "For the people of this republic there is no other way."

Dubcek asserted that Czechoslovakia's "expectations were fulfilled" at the Bratislava meeting Saturday with the Russians and the Communist leaders of East Germany, Hungary, Bulgaria and Poland.

He pointed out that the joint declaration signed at the meeting contained a virtual hands off pledge that leaves Czechoslovakia free to continue its new course.

The document guaranteed the right of every party to develop along its own lines, "taking into account the national characteristic and conditions" of each country. It also bound all signatories to close cooperation in matters dealing with foreign policy.

Dubcek said it was acknowledged in Bratislava that "mutual relations of Socialist countries must be based on real internationalism, which harmoniously combines the principles of equality, sovereignty, national independence and territorial inviolability."

He said this "fully complies with the regeneration process started in January" when Dubcek and his associates ousted President Antonin Novotny and others of the party old guard.

Dubcek spoke of the possibility of further democratization in Czechoslovakia and re-emphasized that "we are determined to continue advancing the post-January road." At another point he added: "There are no justified fears for our sovereignty."

By avoiding any outright claim of victory, Dubcek appeared to be trying once more to save the Russians face. But there was much speculation as to what made the Russians change within a week from threats to hugs.

Dubcek also gave assurance that "No other conclusions have been adopted (at Bratislava) apart from the document published."

He also stressed that the Czechoslovak press and radio, despite the degree of freedom they have achieved this year, must abide by the agreement to call off the propaganda war between Prague and the Moscow group.

"The stopping of public polemic ... will certainly also contribute to the improvement of our mutual relations," he said. "Regarding ourselves, it is our common interest to keep this promise."

Josef Spacek, a member of the Czechoslovak party presidium who attended the Bratislava summit and the talks at Cierna with the Russians last week, told the Czechoslovak news agency CTK the Bratislava declaration was less an endorsement of the liberalization program than an understanding "that we proceed from the idea of having common goals—but also from different conditions in individual countries."

The Soviet press portrayed Bratislava as a triumphant symbol of Communist unity.

"This document has met with wholehearted support of all fraternal parties, the broadest progressive quarters, all the peace-loving peoples of the world who regard the Bratislava statement as a new contribution to the strengthening of the unity and cohesion of the Socialist community," said Pravda, the newspaper of the Soviet Communist party.

RECIPE FOR SUCCESS

NEW DELHI (AP) — B.J. Azad, India's minister for education, says he would aspire for honors in sports if he were to live his life again.

The reason is simple: "People love sportsmen; they suspect politicians," he said.

State GOPs Plan Favorite Son Vote

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller wants the Arkansas delegation to the Republican National Convention to stick with his favorite son candidacy for two ballots.

Rockefeller said Sunday he believed a majority of the 18-member delegation would support his brother, Nelson Rockefeller, on the third ballot, but that he would not try to pressure them to swing behind the New York governor.

The delegation's unofficial chairman for the candidacy of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Travis Beeson of Camden, said he thought 10 of the delegates would support Nixon after the first ballot.

Beeson said he would not agree to Winthrop's favorite son candidacy past the first ballot and that he couldn't keep the Nixon supporters in line after the first ballot if he wanted.

Rockefeller made his statement about a second ballot candidacy in an interview.

He appeared before a caucus of the Arkansas delegation and made a brief statement, but made no mention of his plans to ask the delegates for support on the second ballot for his favorite son candidacy.

"I hope we will start out with the unanimous support of your favorite son," Rockefeller said as delegates applauded.

Mrs. Dorothy Stuck of Marked Tree said she thought the Arkansas delegation would agree to the governor's request to support him as a favorite son for two ballots. She said she thought the majority of the delegates would support his brother after that.

"I don't think it (the majority) will be too big," she said.

The Arkansas delegation will meet with Nixon Tuesday, along with delegations from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Florida and the District of Columbia.

Rockefeller said the unanimous adoption of the 1968 GOP platform demonstrated that the Republicans were united. He said the attitude in Miami Beach was "in marked contrast" to that existing in the 1964 convention.

"This unity will mean victory in November," Rockefeller said in a statement.

Rockefeller and Mrs. Stuck were members of the Resolutions Committee that wrote the 14,000-word platform.

Mrs. Stuck said the committee adopted language proposed by her to soften the law and order plank. The language she proposed said public officials should enforce laws "with firmness and fairness." It also said that Republicans, while demanding law and order, "pledge to attack relentlessly economic and social injustice."

"As a weekly newspaper publisher, I have run into instances where the law was enforced with more firmness than fairness," she said.

The omission tends to underscore a quandary facing not only government sleuths, but the airline industry as well which concedes little is being done or can be done to prevent the crime.

An FBI spokesman said the new booklet, entitled "Airlines and The FBI," was planned before the current rash of hijackings. But he said it was a revision of one that first came out during a spectacular series of similar incidents in 1961.

In a forward, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the booklet's purpose is to suggest "various measures which the airlines and their personnel can take to help this bureau perform its job."

Hoover said the booklet will be widely distributed among airline employees.

The booklet says the FBI has jurisdiction over "most criminal offenses occurring on interstate or foreign flights."

Herndon Backs Mr. Coffelt

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—W. M. "Bill" Herndon, who finished fourth in the five-man race for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, has endorsed Kenneth C. Coffelt of Little Rock in the Aug. 13 runoff.

Coffelt will face Bill Wells of Hermitage, who led the ticket Tuesday, in the runoff.

Healed deadly or dangerous weapon, giving false or threatening reports and stealing a plane.

The booklet cautions airline employees not to tamper with physical evidence, to be alert, to make sure all pertinent information is taken down when accepting checks, and to try to remember complete and accurate descriptions of suspects.

It also urges personnel to make note when taking a threatening telephone call of background sounds, the caller's accent, or any indication the caller is a juvenile, drunk, mentally retarded or unusually familiar with the airline's operations.

Since the first of the year there have been eight hijackings of airliners over the United States in which the gunman or gunmen ordered the plane flown to Cuba.

Navy Silent on Report About Scorpion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy declines to confirm or deny a report that top-secret listening devices recorded the sound of the ocean crushing the nuclear submarine Scorpion about May 21.

The Pentagon issued a "no comment" Sunday to the report published in Newsweek magazine.

Pentagon sources confirmed, however, that the Navy ordered a check of tapes after the Scorpion failed to return on schedule from a cruise, but declined to discuss any phase of its analysis.

The Navy has several devices for monitoring underwater traffic, using them mainly to keep track of Soviet submarines.

The Navy has extended official condolences to the Scorpion's 99 crewmen.

The search for the vessel is now centered in a "highly suspect" area about 450 miles southwest of the Azores where ocean depths run to 12,000 feet.

A Navy board of inquiry has completed an investigation of the incident, but it has not been made public.

Jim: "The Italian blue team has won the World's Championship for the 11th time in 12 years and, as usual, the American team has come in second."

Oswald: "Correction. This year it was the United States team. The Canadian team was third. In other years it has been a North American in second place, but every fourth year each country has a team. There were 35 teams this year."

Jim: "Look at the bidding on Board 1 with Walter Avarelli of Italy sitting West. His spade bid stole the suit from our team. Then he opened a spade against our two heart contract and the defense wound up with two spade ruffs plus four tricks with aces and kings to set the contract one trick."

Oswald: "This hand illustrates why Italy wins every year. They have very different theories at the low levels and, while our teams all learn the three special systems used by the three pairs that make up the Blue team, we try to counter them with the same methods that we use against other American players."

Jim: "This hand sure shows that. No American player would bid a spade with that West hand."

Oswald: "Exactly. Furthermore, expert American bidding style is of such nature that North's pass over one spade is automatic. He has a minimum opening bid."

Jim: "How would you handle this if you were captain of the team?"

Oswald: "The team would use the double of one spade in that spot to show four good spades as part of the opening bid. Partner would be expected to leave it in with spades and to take it out with out spades. This time the double would have been left in and Italy would have had nowhere to go but down."

ANTIQUE HEARSES RESTORED

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP) — Owing horse-drawn hearses and restoring them to original condition has become an in-style hobby although the "funeral cars" went out of style about 1915.

Dick Clancy, a funeral director, and three other area collectors have restored four models built between 1890 and 1910.

"You just don't see many of them around any more," Clancy said.

Clancy has yet to enter his 55-year-old model in a parade. "It's surprising how hard it is to find a matched set of horses," he said, "and almost as difficult to locate a competent driver."

THE WELL CHILD

More to Infant Care Than Feeding, Changing

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

The transition of a child from a wholly dependent baby to an independent, self-reliant person is hard for many mothers to accept even though they know that this is the ultimate goal desired. A baby in his first months of life needs someone to care for him but he doesn't associate that care with any one person. He must, however, in the next few months become deeply attached to his mother if he is ever to become a loving and lovable person.

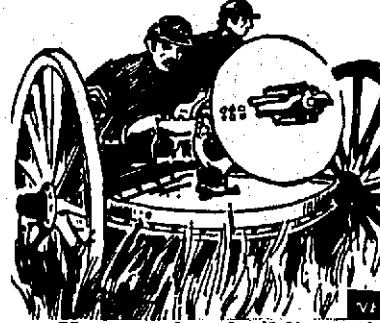

The care an infant gets must be more than regular feedings and a change of diapers. It must include warm cuddling and sweet talk. Even though your baby doesn't understand the words, the music of your voice will get your message of love across to him. Even though you can't be with him every moment he is awake in his first two years, you should try to remain where he can see you or hear your voice as much of the time as possible.

If you must leave him, try always to do so when he is awake; leave him with someone he knows and who loves babies, and tell him you will be back. Give him a reassuring smile and he will sense that all is well.

When he has learned to walk, discard the playpen. Encourage him to explore his surroundings, taking care first to remove anything that might hurt him and any treasured items he might break. This is an important step in teaching him self-reliance. Even though he may seem to dart out of sight in the twinkling of an eye at this stage, he won't go so far that he can't find you within a few seconds if he needs to.

Although toddlers do not, properly speaking, play together, being with others of their own age is a broadening experience. At this stage, however, their ability to adjust to strange adults is more important than their ability to get along with other children.

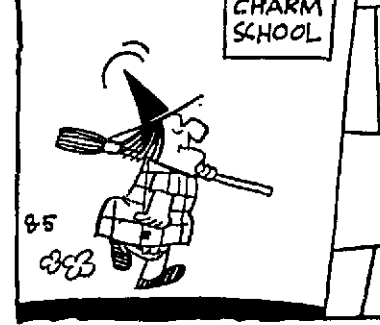

By the time your child reaches school age, how well you have prepared him to

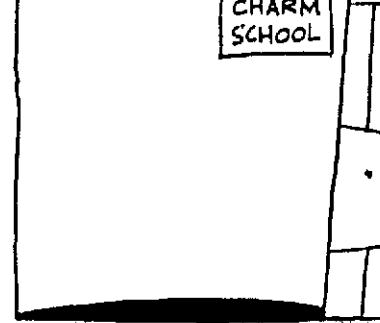

Known for building the first rapid-firing machine gun in 1861, Richard Gatling was led to his invention by a most unwelcome motive, The World Almanac notes. Appalled at the sight of the returning wounded after the Civil War began, Gatling thought that if war were made even more horrible it would be resorted to less readily. His gun was adopted by every civilized nation.

SITE OF THE 1968 REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION, the Miami Beach Convention Hall has added a new wing, the right portion of the building, and a steel mesh fence in front as a security precaution.

Crank Fears Republican Influence

This column's report last Friday on obtaining a doe fawn had a tragic sequel - the fawn died while undergoing emergency treatment.

Aubrey Goodwin, watermelon grower of Williamsville, found it Wednesday caught in a fence on his place, and I brought it into Hope Thursday night. But a check with Dr. Herbert Rogers, veterinarian, which is routine on all new animals, developed bad news Friday.

What Mr. Goodwin and I didn't know was that the little fawn's struggle with the fence had virtually dehydrated her. Glucose injections at the animal hospital were of no avail and she died Friday night.

There are those of course who think wildlife belongs in the woods and should stay there, but it was while running free that this small, beautiful creature met her fate. Of course it was Man who built the fence she got tangled in - but then Man has to live, too. And you can't run a farm without fences.

The wilderness is O.K. but I note that the animals getting free food and protection in the national parks and other preserves don't hanker to return to the jungle.

Our trade group, Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, Chattanooga, Tenn., reports that TV news editors are trying to get the networks to grant more "time" for newscasts. Richard Salant of CBS made his point with that network by showing that a 30-minute newscast reduced to type amounted to only six columns - less than one page in a newspaper.

We aren't told what CBS's reply was - but it poses a difficult problem for TV. Essentially the electronic medium depends on a picture and action to hold the viewer's interest.

Newspapers print the news unlimited because they are documentaries, and the reader can take what he wants now and go back later to read more. But there is a limit to what the TV viewer will stand in documentaries read out loud.

In its own special field, however, TV has the advantage of a live news-reel report, which the printed newspaper does not.

You read in Saturday's edition an AP item from Little Rock in which the State Assessment Coordination Division cites eight counties for failing to toe the mark - holding their assessments at 18 per cent of market value.

Actually, of course, "18 per cent" is merely a political term. The true level in Arkansas is seldom more than 8 or 9 per cent of market value. Arkansas uses a "sampling" system that is supposed to police county assessing methods and keep them more or less uniform - and these eight counties which have been put on notice now face the loss of part of their turnback funds unless they improve their figures.

It is noteworthy that Florida has adopted something once proposed but rejected in Arkansas - assessing property at full market value with a corresponding drop in millage. Florida also has gone along with another trend and dropped personal property assessments entirely.

Real property taxes are out back in the same ratio that assessments are increased - and any additional levies against the higher valuation then have to be voted on. Tax increases aren't popular under a firm and fair assessing system, as you can appreciate.

GOP Platform Pledges to Seek Peace, Battle Crime, Social Ills

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Republican plank-writers will hand to the national convention Tuesday a platform pledging peace negotiations without surrender in Vietnam and drives against crime and social ills at home.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, chairman of the platform committee which wound up work early Sunday with a compromise plank on Vietnam, indicated he expects no floor battle when the party dined before the full convention for final approval.

Dirksen said he anticipates no dissenting report from his 102-man committee and added the Vietnam proviso "will come as close to satisfying any candidate we may nominate as anything we might reduce to writing."

A spokesman for Richard M. Nixon, the frontrunner for the nomination, praised the 13,000-word policy declaration as a forthright document embracing "principle and a program of action which hold the promise of restoring to America effective and responsible leadership."

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller hailed it as a platform "we can win on and I want to run on." California's favorite son candidate, Gov. Ronald Reagan, had no immediate comment.

The 33-page manifesto combined promises for crusades against violence with a wide range of social betterment planks which pleased avowed liberals on domestic affairs.

It carried no price tag for its proposed programs, nor did it call for major tax changes at this time.

It was the Vietnam proviso which remained in dispute right up to the final minutes of the platform group's 18-hour secret session which started Saturday and ran to 3:15 a.m. Sunday.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York, a Rockefeller supporter, and others objected to what they termed a Reagan hard-line on Vietnam in the officially proposed draft language. Its wording held any negotiated settlement "unacceptable" unless the agreement guaranteed the Vietnamese full self-determination.

After behind-the-scenes leadership huddles, Dirksen agreed to revised wording turned in by Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen of New Jersey. The tired platform writers chorused their approval.

Thus the national convention will vote Tuesday night on this commitment: "We pledge a program for peace in Vietnam—neither peace at any price nor a camouflaged surrender of legitimate U.S. or allied interests—but a fair and equitable settlement to all, based on the principle of self-determination, our national interests and the cause of long-range world peace."

"We will sincerely and vigorously pursue peace negotiations as long as they offer any reasonable prospect for a just peace. We pledge to develop a clear and purposeful negotiating position."

The GOP statement accuses the Democratic administration of "breach of faith with the American people respecting our heavy involvement in Vietnam" and says every citizen bitterly recalls this campaign oratory from President Johnson in 1964: "We are not about to send American boys 9,000-10,000 miles away from home to do what Asian boys ought to be doing for themselves."

The Republican document contends the administration fails to recognize the true issue in Vietnam "is not control of territory but the security and loyalty of the population."

3 Pilots Released by Enemy Believe More Americans to Be Freed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three U.S. pilots, reunited with wives and children after up to seven months in North Vietnam prisons, underwent routine medical checkups and processing today before heading to their homes.

They said they believe more captured American airmen will be released.

The three—Maj. James F. Low, 43, of Sausalito, Calif.; Maj. Fred N. Thompson, 32, of Taylor, S.C., and Capt. Joe V. Carpenter, 37, of Victorville, Calif.—hardly appeared to need any medical attention as they stepped off an Air Force plane Sunday night looking fit and cheerful.

"It is awfully nice to be home," said Low, a Korean war ace who was captured last Dec. 16 after his F4C exploded from heavy ground fire over North Vietnam.

Carpenter's three children rushed out to meet him when the plane came to a stop at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington. All three wives had

Rifeman Is Arrested at Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Authorities alerted by a tip from Nevada's governor arrested a 29-year-old man today who they said had shipped a rifle to his room at a hotel housing two delegations to the Republican National Convention.

Dade County sheriff's police said James Chad Anderson of Kanab, Utah, was charged with vagrancy and volunteered to undergo psychiatric tests.

Nevada Gov. Paul Laxalt said he recognized Anderson and told hotel officials of his presence. Laxalt said authorities were called after the man inquired about fishing tackle he was having shipped here.

Li. James Vermilye, in charge of the Dade County criminal intelligence unit, said the FBI and Secret Service joined police in a check that "revealed a .22 caliber rifle had been shipped to Anderson's room at the hotel."

Vermilye quoted Anderson as saying the rifle was an antique that he had included in the package containing fishing tackle he planned to use at this Florida resort city.

LBJ Tries to Roll Back Steel Prices

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, in an apparent replay of his successful 1966 rollback of steel prices, is looking to competitive pressure from giant U.S. Steel Corp. to bring the industry into line.

Aides said Sunday night Johnson feels a general steel-price increase can be avoided if U.S. Steel, the nation's largest producer, keeps aloof from across-the-board hikes posted by Bethlehem and Republic, the No. 2 and No. 3 producers.

U.S. Steel and five other members of the top 10 have raised prices only on certain items with increases ranging from 4 to 7 per cent. Only McLouth and Kaiser of the top 10 have made no increases at all.

Although U.S. Steel is regarded as the make-or-buy factor, Johnson is lightening other steel's one by one.

Latest turn came Sunday night when Chairman Paul Rand Dixon announced an emergency session of his Federal Trade Commission to consider a request by Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., for a probe of

Rockefeller Train to Stop in Hope

Governor Rockefeller's Victory Special Campaign Train will stop in Hope at 2:20 p.m., August 24th on its way to the Winthrop Rally where the Governor will kick off his campaign for reelection.

Arkansas' first "political rally on wheels", at least in modern times, will begin at Corning at 7:45 a.m. and make stops in Walnut Ridge, Newport, Bald Knob, Little Rock, Benton, Malvern, Arkadelphia, Gurdon, Prescott, Hope and Texarkana before arriving at Winthrop at 4:45 p.m.

Governor Rockefeller will board the train in Little Rock and will make several appearances on the rear platform at the various stopping points.

When the train arrives at Winthrop, almost one thousand people will be on board, including Mrs. Rockefeller, Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Britt, and Congressmen and Mrs. John Paul Hammerschmidt.

The train's passengers will join other supporters at Winthrop who will come by car, plane and chartered bus. Food, carnival rides and balloons for the children and other souvenirs will be available for the crowd. These provisions are being paid for by contributions from thousands of supporters in Arkansas.

Entertainment will be provided by several musical groups, including a brass ensemble which will create the atmosphere of an old time political rally.

Chet Lauck, also known as "Lum" of Lum and Abner fame, will be master of ceremonies.

The train will begin its return trip to Corning at approximately 7:30 that night making the same stops it made earlier.

Some tickets are still available from Neal Sox Johnson at P. O. Box 3395, Little Rock, Arkansas 72201. Information on joining groups on chartered busses is also available from that source.

Nixon Group Going After Holdouts

By JACK BELL and BARRY SCHWED
Associated Press Writers
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Republican party opened its 29th national convention today with Richard M. Nixon pushing hard to win the GOP presidential nomination on the first ballot.

By the Associated Press's count he was about 100 votes short and his two top challengers, Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California, were pinning their hopes on extending the balloting Wednesday night beyond two rounds.

Rockefeller got a big break when the 58-vote Ohio delegation caucused just before the opening and decided to stick with Gov. James A. Rhodes, a favorite son, on the first ballot.

Rockefeller's strategy is to try to keep the several favorite son candidacies among the states alive long enough to give the impression that Nixon does not have the strength to go over the top.

Reagan, meanwhile, was striving to pick off individual delegates — an effort which Rockefeller said at a news conference was meeting with some success.

"I think the movement is to Reagan in many of the delegations," Rockefeller said.

Of his own efforts, he said he is picking up "bits and pieces." The governor said his count showed Nixon with 550, himself with 350 and Reagan with 250.

The AP figured it Nixon 566, Rockefeller 232 and Reagan 159, with 144 delegates uncommitted and a whopping 232 for favorite sons. Needed for victory: 667.

Reagan, quoted as telling an Alabama delegation caucus "I'm in this to win," was by all odds the "busiest" candidate in this overstuffed and overheated convention town.

Taking time out for a $500 plate fund-raising gala, Reagan scooted about town, meeting with southern and Rocky Mountain delegations in his efforts to win first ballot support away from Nixon.

Rockefeller, who called a morning news conference, registered an upsurge when 13 of Rhode Island's delegates caucused on their arrival and agreed to cast a first ballot vote for the New York governor.

Rockefeller was assured Massachusetts' 34 votes on the first round because of his write-in victory in that state's primary. However, Gov. John A. Volpe was working hard to swing a majority to Nixon on the second ballot, if there is one, despite his all but vanished hopes for the vice presidential nomination.

The ring of the Nixon anvil was predominant, although the candidate himself refrained

Cong. Caches Uncovered by Marines

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong wounded an American general whose son was killed in action in 1967 and shot down a helicopter in two fights south of Saigon today, U.S. infantrymen reported killing 41 of the enemy and capturing 13 weapons.

U.S. casualties were two killed and 13 wounded, including Brig. Gen. Franklin M. Davis Jr., 50, commander of the U.S. 199th Light Infantry Brigade.

Davis was cut about the face by shrapnel and gashed over his right eye when a band of Viet Cong guerrillas showered rocket grenades on an allied river patrol from mangrove swamps along a river bank 13 miles southeast of Saigon.

The general returned to the scene after being treated at the brigade aid station, commenting: "It was just an occupational hazard."

Davis, who is from Waltham, Mass., is one of half a dozen American generals wounded in Vietnam, while another three have been killed. Davis' youngest son, 2nd Lt. Stephen Davis, was killed in action in Vietnam in 1967.

The heaviest of the two fights raged in a stand of paddies, canals and huts 24 miles southwest of Saigon. The fight was triggered in midafternoon Sunday by Viet Cong gunners who shot down a helicopter that was landing troops for a reconnaissance mission.

The Viet Cong then opened up with small arms and automatic weapons on the company of 150 infantrymen from the U.S. 9th Division. More than 500 more Americans were landed in the area in darkness and heavy rain and set up a cordon around the enemy area of paddies, canals and huts. A prisoner told U.S. interrogators that about 100 Viet Cong were in the area at the start of the fight.

With the cordon established, helicopter gunships firing machine guns and rockets raked the enemy positions through the night and artillery pounded them. The infantrymen swept through the area after daybreak Monday and reported finding 41 enemy bodies and 19 weapons. Two Americans were killed and seven were wounded.

The two helicopter losses raised to 803 the number shot down in combat during the war.

Passenger Trains Collide in Florida

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — Two sections of the Seaboard Coast Line's Silver Meteor passenger train smashed into each other on a curve today and at least 50 riders were reported injured. There was no immediate report of fatalities.

"They're having to pry them out with crowbars and acetylene torches," said Deputy Ed Lockwood of the sheriff's office.

Four diesel engines, two on each train, and nine passenger cars were derailed.

Winter Haven, in central Florida, is about 40 miles east of Tampa.

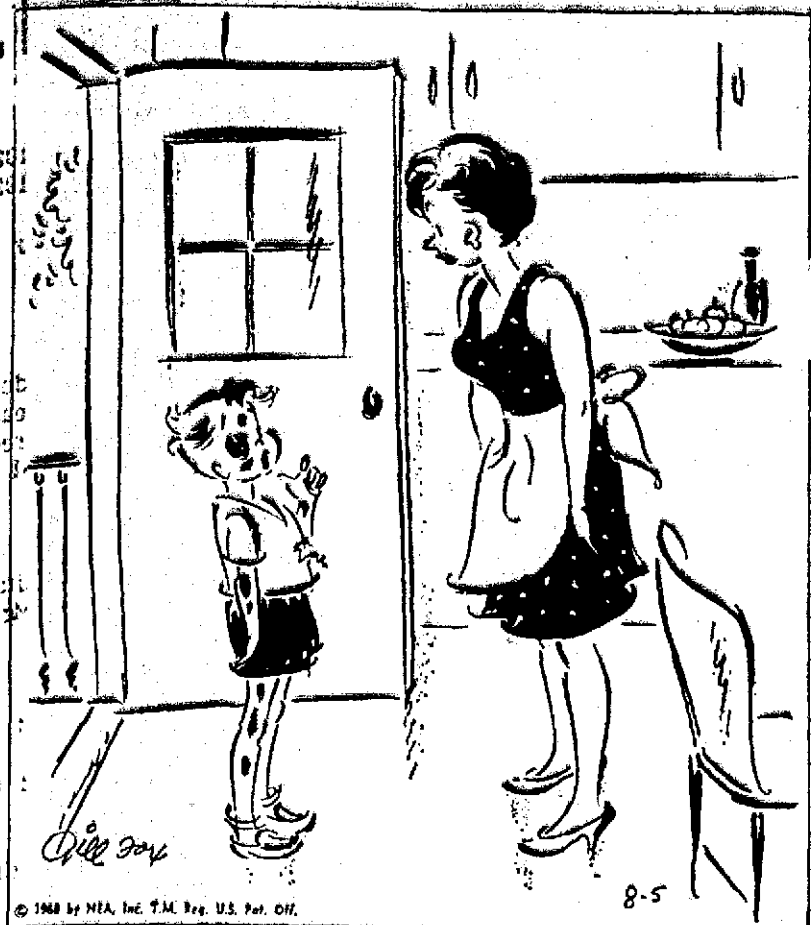

Fair and Hot Is Forecast for Arkansas

Fair weather is expected to continue over Arkansas through Tuesday with warm and humid days and mild nights.

The U.S. Weather Bureau reported today that no relief was in sight from the typical August weather with a dry air mass aloft holding shower probability low.

The only rainfall reported around the state in the 24-hour period ending at 7:30 a.m. today was a trace at Harrison.

Low temperatures reported around the state this morning ranged from 68 degrees at Fayetteville to 76 at Texarkana. Highs Sunday ranged from 91 at Little Rock and Harrison to 97 at Walnut Ridge and Fort Smith.

Statement by Crank Is Branded Lie

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller today branded as "a flat lie" a charge by Democratic gubernatorial hopeful Marion Crank that Republicans were attempting to place Mrs. Virginia Johnson as the Democratic candidate in the November general election.

Rockefeller returned to Little Rock from the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach, Fla., to formally open an ouster hearing against Game and Fish Commissioner member Raymond Farris of Biscoe.

The governor said he would return to the convention later in the day.

Crank made his charge Saturday night in a statewide telecast. He said the GOP was attempting to influence 100,000 votes for Mrs. Johnson, whose husband was the 1966 party nominee defeated by Rockefeller.

"I have not supported any candidate and will not support any," Rockefeller said. "This is the problem of Democrats."

The governor said it made no difference to him whether his opponent is Crank or Mrs. Johnson.

Regarding another charge that a vote for Mrs. Johnson was, in effect, a vote for Rockefeller, the governor said, "Time will tell."

Rockefeller declined to say which candidate he thought to be the most vulnerable, but did say he believed Crank "is better informed on the legislative process."

"I have no intention of speaking that kindly of him this fall," the governor said.

Rockefeller said he would base his campaign strictly on his record.

Mrs. Johnson apparently defeated Ted Boswell of Bryant by 317 votes in the battle for the No. 2 spot in the Aug. 13 runoff, according to complete but unofficial certified returns from last Tuesday's preferential primary.

Asked if he had breathed a sigh of relief when Boswell finished third, Rockefeller said, "I wouldn't say that."

The governor said Boswell, 35, youngest person in the Democratic field, had been "running essentially on my program. He was the only one that came out with a positive position. He, at least, had something he was running for. The others were running against Win Rockefeller."

Rockefeller said his financial advisers had been meeting "all along" to prepare budgets to be considered by the 1969 General Assembly. He said one proposed budget was based on maintaining the status quo and another "on a forward-looking program I will campaign on."

The governor again stated that Arkansas would have to utilize its credit and probably undergo a tax increase if the state is to prosper as well as is possible.

In discussing his GOP primary victory over Sidney C. Roberts of Little Rock, Rockefeller said, "I didn't bat a hundred per cent in the primaries, but neither did I want to emulate Mr. Stalin."

Rockefeller was asked about developments in connection with a major industry he mentioned two months ago. "It is still in the air," the governor said of the chance that the firm would locate in Arkansas, He said the industry was in the aeronautics field.

Asked about a delay in construction of the Mississippi River bridge at Memphis because of a shortage of federal highway aid, the governor said, "I don't believe the President has the authority to curtail the funds."

Rockefeller said he intended to ask the state's congressional delegation to "use their considerable seniority" in attempting to change the president's decision.

He said the bridge, a $50 million project, was badly needed.

Plane Lands Safely After Air Collision

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A jet-prop airplane, with the wreckage of a light plane and the bodies of its three young passengers embedded in its tail section, landed safely Sunday evening, but for most of the 10 passengers aboard knew what happened.

Capt. Ted Baum, 43, Skokie, Ill., brought the twin-engine plane in with one engine dead and his copilot badly injured in the cockpit.

"I thought that something was wrong, but not a collision," said Mrs. Nancy Steffens, 44, of Two Rivers. "I was more nervous after I got on the ground and realized it had been a collision."

"We didn't know what hit us. I think only the stewardess knew," said Wilma Ross, 17, of Saginaw, Mich., "and she just told us to stay seated with our seat belts on. The pilot came down with what seemed like a normal landing."

Officials said the single-engine Cessna 150 rammed North Central Airlines Flight 261, a Convair 580, over southern Wisconsin. The light plane hit just behind the copilot's seat, also damaging the propeller on the plane's right engine.

The copilot, first officer John Mazur, 30, of Wheaton, Ill., suffered multiple fractures of his right leg and head injuries. He was reported in serious condition in a Milwaukee hospital. He was the only person on the airplane injured.

The victim's bodies were removed after the plane landed. They were identified as Rick L. Stenberg, 19, of Elk Grove Village, Ill., the pilot; Virginia Johnson, 18, Mt. Prospect, Ill., and her brother, Richard, 2.

"That pilot did a fantastic landing job," a federal official said. Otherwise there was no comment as a team of about 35 National Transportation Safety Board investigators led by board examiner Thomas Saunderson arrived from Washington to probe the cause of the crash.

Milwaukee police said the pilots told authorities they were flying 170 miles per hour at 3,500 feet, preparing to land at Milwaukee, when the private plane appeared suddenly on their right, then veered into the liner. The flight originated in Chicago and was headed to Manitowoc, with a stop at Milwaukee.

There was no panic in the big plane after the collision.

"I just felt a heavy thud and heard a bang," said Pam Pavlovich, who was returning to her Manitowoc home after a vacation. "Then someone yelled 'My God, take it easy,' and everyone got very quiet."

"Everyone acted very calmly," Miss Ross said. "Nobody panicked or anything. One woman just cried."

Convention Schedule for Tuesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Textual highlights of the 1968 Republican platform to be presented Tuesday to the party's national convention:

Preamble —
Today, we are in turmoil. Tens of thousands of young men have died or been wounded in Vietnam. Many young people are losing faith in our society. Our inner cities have become centers of despair. Inflation has eroded confidence in the dollar. American urgently needs new leadership.

The GOP Pledge —
Let the people know our commitment to provide the dynamic leadership which they rightly expect of this party—the party of empty promises, but of the bodies of its three young passengers embedded in its wastefulness, but of responsibility—the party not of war, but the party whose administrations have been characterized by peace—the Republican party.

The Cities —
The Republican party strongly advocates measures to alleviate and remove the frustrations that contribute to riots. We simultaneously support decisive action to quell civil disorder, re-lying primarily on state and local governments to deal with these conditions. We will not

Boswell Sees Progressive Recognition

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ted Boswell, who finished a close third in the Democratic gubernatorial primary, said Saturday that he thought his campaign had "brought about a recognition that there is a progressive wing in the Democratic party."

He said he thought it was "nearer to the body of the Democratic party than some people realize."

Boswell, appearing at the convention of the Arkansas State AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education, apparently planned to wait until today before conceding that he had lost the runoff spot to Mrs. Virginia Johnson. Democratic party officials were expected to release their certified vote tabulations today.

Boswell said the state had "reached an era of the most pressing and far-reaching reform in 100 years and that is constitutional revision."

He warned COPE, however, that there would be candidates for delegate positions at the proposed constitutional convention who are not committed to basic reform. He said the union members must recognize them and encourage the candidates fit others who would be well-suited for a convention.

Earlier Saturday, Boswell sent a letter to Mrs. Johnson, with Marion Crank getting a copy of it, saying he would "be reluctant to assume any declared position except as it may relate to the major issues of reform that I have steadfastly advocated throughout this campaign."

"I desire to convey assurances to you that no bitterness nor dog-in-the-manger feeling will develop on my part, regardless of the final outcome," he said in the letter.

At the COPE meeting, the group adopted a resolution authorizing a poll of the 23 executive committee members and one representative of each of the 13 central labor councils to decide who to support in the runoff should Boswell lose. COPE had endorsed Boswell in the first primary.

COPE also endorsed Bill Wells in the runoff for lieutenant governor, and state treasurer Nancy Hall, Wells faces Kenneth Coffelt in the Democratic runoff and Mrs. Hall faces Republican Leona Troxell of Rose Bud in the general election.

Hospital Bid $1.4 Million

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — A Fayetteville firm submitted the apparent low bid Thursday for construction of a Conway County general hospital, which will be financed with a $600,000 local bond issue, a $50,000 personal gift from Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and federal funds.

The firm, Brennan-Boyd Construction Co., submitted a bid of $1,449,000 if the hospital uses electric air conditioning and $1,444,000 if it uses gas. Five other firms submitted bids.

The Benedictine Sisters will operate the hospital, which will replace St. Anthony's Hospital.

tolerate violence!

Crime —
We must re-establish the principle that men are accountable for what they do, that criminals are responsible for their crimes. We call on public officials to enforce our laws with firmness and fairness. We recognize that respect for law and order flows naturally from a just society, while demanding protection of the public peace and safety, we pledge a relentless attack on economic and social injustice in every form.

Foreign policy —
We do not intend to conduct foreign policy in such manner as to make the United States a world policeman. However, we will not condone aggression, or so-called "wars of national liberation," or naively discount the continuing threats of Moscow and Peking.

Vietnam —
We pledge a strategy permitting a progressive de-Americanization of the war, both military and civilian. We will pursue a course that will enable and induce the South Vietnamese to assume increasing responsibility. We pledge a program for peace in Vietnam neither peace at any price nor a camouflaged surrender of legitimate United States or allied interests—but a positive program that will offer fair and equitable settlement to all, based on the principle of self-determination, our national interests and the cause of long-range world peace.

Peace —
We will sincerely and vigorously pursue peace negotiations as long as they offer any reasonable prospect for a just peace.

Youth —
Our youth today are endowed with greater knowledge and maturity than any such generation of the past. Their political restlessness reflects their urgent hope to achieve a meaningful participation in public affairs. We believe that lower age groups should be accorded the right to vote. We will reduce the number of years during which a young man can be considered for the draft.

Gun Control —
We pledge an all-out, federal-state-local crusade against crime, including enactment of legislation to control indiscriminate availability of firearms, safeguarding the right of responsible citizens to collect, own and use firearms for legitimate purposes, retaining primary responsibility at the state level with such federal laws as necessary to better enable the states meet their responsibilities.

Schools —
To treat the special problems of children from impoverished families, we advocate expanded, better programs for pre-school children. Where state conditions prevent use of funds for non-public school children, a public agency should be designated to administer federal funds.

ASTRONAUT Walter M. Schirra Jr. emerges after testing the crew command module spacecraft, scheduled to be the first manned Apollo launch later this year.

J. Edgar Hoover

For nearly a half century the name J. Edgar Hoover has been synonymous with law enforcement in the United States. The man who took over the directorship of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in 1924 at the age of 29 transformed an unarmed, unrespected, unorganized department into a vital link in maintaining national law and order. His work has not been without controversy, ranging from periodic uproar over phone bugging to unjustified accusations from the Senate floor that he sent his G-men on dangerous missions while he played it safe in Washington. Few, however, have questioned the dedication of the man over the years in building a streamlined, investigative machine to fight crime.

SELDOM PHOTOGRAPHED in action, Hoover has often been in the thick of it. A glimpse of him is caught, above, in 1936, when tear gas bombs used in a raid on a gangster hangout set an apartment on fire.

War against the Underworld in the Thirties

The reputation of the FBI was established in the 1930s, when a wave of lawlessness swept the nation, spurred on by the illicit liquor traffic that accompanied Prohibition. Kidnaping, murder, bank robbery and many other crimes of violence occurred daily. Gangsters were equipped with bulletproof vests, submachine guns and high-powered cars. Yet Hoover's "G-Men" gained the respect of the criminals themselves after termination of such cases as Bruno Hauptman in the Lindbergh kidnaping, and shoot-outs with gunmen like Baby Face Nelson and John Dillinger, the latter shot in a Chicago alley as depicted at right.

Bruno Hauptman

Baby Face Nelson

John Dillinger

THE WAR with the underworld also took its toll on the FBI. A saddened Hoover is shown attending the funeral of an agent slain in the line of duty in 1934.

and against 'The Enemy Within'

SPY RINGS BROKEN and plots uncovered shared headlines with battlefield news during the war years. The FBI was the first line of internal defense, checking out every alarm, real or false, such as huge arrows spotted in plowed fields on the east and west coasts which might have pointed Axis bomber pilots toward important targets. Below, bachelor Hoover still found time in hectic years to relax occasionally with his long-time friend and fellow worker, Clyde Tolson, shown with him at a boxing match in 1936.

On the heels of the war with the underworld came a wider conflict, one requiring FBI vigilance against spies and saboteurs in this country. Within hours after Pearl Harbor was hit, thousands of dangerous enemy aliens watched by Hoover's men were apprehended. The United States suffered a minimum of sabotage during World War II, due largely to the response of the FBI.

TRAINING is never over for FBI agents. They learn to be quick on the draw and stay that way at the FBI National Academy in Washington, where menacing dummies pop up on a target range simulating a city street.

Secrets Lost

COMMUNISM AND ATOMIC SECRETS posed the next internal threat to the nation. As the confrontation between the Red bloc and the western world took shape, Russia tried desperately to break the U.S. monopoly on atomic weapons, and succeeded in gaining the necessary information. FBI investigation led to the conviction of atomic spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, above, and Harry Gold, at left.

A GRATEFUL NATION has bestowed many honors on John Edgar Hoover, and a succession of U.S. presidents have shown their confidence in him through his long tenure in office. Rumors that he might step down in 1965, due to having reached the mandatory retirement age of 70, were squelched when President Johnson waived the requirement in Hoover's case. Said Hoover: "I just don't like the rocking chair life."

GOP Platform Criticized by Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — The draft platform proposed by the Republican party for its convention at Miami Beach Fla., came in for sharp criticism today from the official Soviet news agency.

Tass said the platform points out various problems of the country but "proposes no concrete measures for remedying these ills of American society."

"It offers only vague generalities and promises courageous and understanding leadership."

The Tass report, by O. Anichkin and H. Freeman, added:

"While the foreign policy section of the program attempts to compromise the views of the moderate and ultra wings of the party, it contains strong traces of Goldwaterism nevertheless."

"Concerning the war in Vietnam, the most burning issue in the country, the Republican program is critical of the administration but offers no clear alternative to its policy."

"Thus the Republican program, while pointing to the manifestations of mass unrest and acknowledging the socio-political crisis in the country, offers no solution to the country's problems and no genuine alternative to the discredited policies of the present administration."

G&F Ouster Hearing Is Started

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's ouster hearing against a Game and Fish Commission member opened today but a date to begin receiving testimony was unsettled because of the illness of the commissioner, Raymond Farris of Biscoe.

A formal date to begin taking testimony is to be set by the two-member hearing panel, attorneys Courtney C. Crouch of Springdale and Hartsill Ragon of Fort Smith.

Crouch was unable to attend the opening session, and Ragon said the two would confer before setting a date.

Ragon had set next Monday to begin the hearings, but Farris' attorney, former Supreme Court Justice Sam Robinson of Little Rock, requested a delay after producing a letter from Farris' physician saying that the commissioner could not endure a trial at this time.

Farris is under treatment for tuberculosis. Rockefeller returned to the state from Miami Beach, Fla., where he was attending the Republican National Convention, to formally begin the hearing.

The governor's representative in the case, H. W. McMillan of Arkadelphia, has made nine charges against Farris.

McMillan agreed to give Robinson a list of the names and addresses of the 35 witnesses he plans to call. However, McMillan declined to give Robinson a copy of the report he sent the governor regarding his investigation of the commissioner.

Robinson requested that the hearing panel require McMillan to relinquish a copy of the report and McMillan said he would do so if told to, but that he would do so only under protest.

McMillan suggested beginning the hearing two weeks from today and said if Farris were unable to attend, he should resign from the commission.

His reluctance to provide Robinson his report stemmed from reports that some employees have been fired "because they talk too much," McMillan said.

McMillan said he could not prove the charge and that he hadn't investigated it. However, Hugh Hackler, director of the commission, said no one had been fired and that McMillan had "just made it up."

Rockefeller read a three-page written statement which dealt mostly with the persons involved in conducting the hearing. He said it was physically impossible for him to attend each session and still fulfill his duties as governor.

The governor said Farris' attorney would have an opportunity to make an oral argument and submit a written brief at the conclusion of the hearing.

"Thereafter, I will make my decision and announce it publicly," Rockefeller said.

Ragon said all hearing sessions would be held in the old Supreme Court chamber on the second floor of the state Capitol building. He said they would be open to the news media and public, but that photographs could not be taken once each session started.

McMillan's brief summary of some of the charges indicated that the hearing would be lengthy. He said he would need witnesses from as far away as Canada and Colorado to present testimony.

The charges claim that Farris misused state property for personal benefit on nine separate occasions.

Robinson said that he didn't believe he could be ready for the hearing in less than 30 days.

Regardless of the outcome, there will be a right of appeal to Chancery Court in Pulaski County, according to Amendment 35 to the state Constitution. The amendment sets up the Game and Fish Commission, and it is this constitutional provision that provides Rockefeller's avenue for the hearings.
